

Physician Assisted Suicide in New York State

An update and reflections of a Catholic physician

Wednesday, September 27, 2017 - 7:00 to 8:30 pm
St. Bernard's School of Theology and Ministry
120 French Road, Rochester, NY 14618

Dr. Thomas Carroll is an Assistant Professor of Medicine at the University of Rochester and received his M.D. and Ph.D. from the University of Connecticut. He completed his internal medicine training at the University of Rochester where he subsequently served as Chief Resident and completed the fellowship program in Hospice and Palliative Medicine. Dr. Carroll practices both general internal medicine and palliative care in the office and hospital settings. His interests include medical education at all stages of training and bioethics.

Sponsored by

The Finger Lakes Guild

(A guild of the Catholic Medical Association, serving the Diocese of Rochester)